The agenda

The project

Our client

oOlution is a natural & organic skincare brand that creates 100% natural formulas, without false promises, rich in a unique diversity of plants from 20 to 70 active ingredients per product.

All products are 100% natural, organic, vegan, made in France, without palm oil, without filling ingredients and consigned.

"I wanted to create cosmetics in the image of our food balanced, fair and greedy"

Anne Marie Gabelica, oOlution CEO

The brief

Redesign the product presentation.

Research, analyze and prioritize all information on all product page.

(cross-sell, ingredient routine, subscription understanding, product formats, 3 x free, etc.)

The research phase

The natural & organic cosmetics market

In France, the organic and natural cosmetics market weighed:

972 million euros (2020)

Increasing by +8%

France is 3rd market (worldwide)

in terms of sales of natural & organic cosmetics

Principal motivations for users:

Take care of their health/body

Use efficient products

Environmental concerns

The interviews

We interviewed 7 users

How the product meets my requirements?

 \rightarrow What is the main action ?

I care if the product is natural

I use Yuka whenever I want to buy cosmetic products. Even if someone recommended the product, if the rating is bad, I don't take it.

I often miss information about the smell & texture of the product.

Customer reviews are really important. I like to check the best, but also the worst comments.

I'm afraid of being tricked online

The problem identified

Our focus for this project

Young urban women who have a simple daily skincare routine need a way to find tangible information about the quality, origin, and feel of their skincare products, because they currently lack reassurance when navigating the product pages in oOlution website.

The persona

"I prefer natural & organic skincare because I eat organic food"

Goal

- · Have healthy & beautiful skin
- Avoid chimical product too harsh for her skin
- Have a simple, natural & organic routine

Frustrations

- Buying products that are not fit her skin, in terms of texture and does not combine with makeup
- Does not have all the information about the pourcentage of natural ingredients in the product
- · Buying a cream that smell bad
- · Not recyclable packaging
- · Afraid of being tricked

Next steps

 Simplify the wording used on the website.
 Users were confused about the words dish stew - salad.
